

Job Printing

We are now ready to do all kinds of plain and fancy Job Printing, in the best style, on short notice, and at cheap as any other office. We have competent hands, good presses, a fine assortment of paper and cards, and we can do good and cheap work. All kinds of books, briefs, catalogues, &c., printed in the best style and on short notice. We ask the patronage of Democrats, and all others that want printing done.

To Local Advertisers.—Occasional, or transient local notices will not be inserted in this paper hereafter unless they are paid for when handed in, and to insure insertion must be handed in before 6 o'clock P. M. Local notices of five lines and under will be inserted one time for 50 cts.; each additional insertion of the same matter, 25 cts.; marriage notices, 50 cts.; funeral notices, $1; pay required in advance. Notices for benevolent societies not exceeding five lines, one insertion, 25 cts. The above terms will be strictly observed.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

Major General McClelland arrived in the city yesterday morning.

The price of substitutes is said to be on the advance in this market.

Four or five companies of the 5th cavalry left for the seat of war yesterday.

For fresh Baltimore Oysters, raw, stewed or fried, go to Cunningham's, on Illinois street, opposite the Governor's mansion.

Col. Sol. Meredith, of the 19th Indiana, has received a Brigadier General's commission for gallantry in the late battles.

Gen. Benton, formerly Colonel of the 8th Indiana, was in the city yesterday. The gallant General was looking well after his arduous campaign in Arkansas.

MAJOR GENERAL.—There will be a special meeting of Indianapolis Chapter, No. 5, this (Friday) evening, at 7 o'clock.

CHARLES FISHER, Sec.

Major Fowler, of the 15th Indiana, declines the appointment of Colonel of one of the new regiments. He was in the city on Wednesday last.

METROPOLITAN HALL.—The Cricket is to be repeated to-night by request, as many are desirous of seeing it played once more. The house was well filled last night.

HOUSE WANTED.—A small house wanted containing three or four rooms, within four or five squares of the Bates House, for which a rent of $5 per month will be paid in advance. Inquire at this office.

COTILLON PARTY.—There will be a cotillon party at Washington Hall on Tuesday evening, the 28th inst. The party will be supplied with good music and the best of prompters. Prices of admission will be suit to the times.

The Cincinnati Gazette is getting very pious and boasts of having an article in its columns "written in a spirit of loving kindness and charity." That copy of the paper should be saved as a curiosity.

We notice a little book just published giving the names of the "exempts" in Marion county. Could not the author get up a list of the school book students in the city? It would be an interesting work.

We are informed authoritatively that no more substitutes will be received. The speculators in this kind of stock will find the market closed upon them. It has to stop sometime, and the authorities have decided to end it at once.

FRESH FISH AND HAMS.—O. B. Stout & Bro. are in receipt of fresh fish daily. They have also Messrs Ferguson & Mansur's sugar cured hams. O. B. Stout & Bro. keep constantly on hand all kinds of family groceries, which they propose to sell as cheap as the cheapest.

The southern papers are furious over Bragg's failure, as they term it, in Kentucky; and the northern papers, particularly the Abolition wing, are equally furious over Buell's failure in the same field. Can both Bragg and Buell have failed, or how is it?

Our police record for the week has been almost a blank. There have been fewer cases of drunk than in the same period for years back. It may be on account of the advance in whisky, as a five cent drink these times will hardly moisten the lips of an old top.

Two pugacious archbishops about nine or ten years of age had a set to on the Palmer House corner, yesterday afternoon, the fight lasting over twenty five minutes. They pounded each other industriously and neither would say "you're in" as these warlike times they should be sent to West Point.

The Plymouth Republican says: "The Breph of the Bank of the State, which closed at this place some time since, is about to be reopened, the stock having been purchased by men of capital, who will not borrow all the money themselves. The name of the principal proprietor of the stock in this branch is Mr. Stoughton A. Fletcher, of Indianapolis."

Lieut. Col. Robert R. Stewart, of the 21 Indiana cavalry, has declined the appointment tendered him of the command of the 5th cavalry, preferring to remain with his old regiment.

We understand that the members of the 23 cavalry intend, on Monday evening, to present Col. Stewart with an elegant sword and belt as a token of their appreciation of him as a soldier and a gentleman. The sword may be seen at McLeary's jewelry store.

The bowdlerizing of South Meridian street is a job that both the city engineer and the contractor have a right to be proud of. Illinois street promises to be quite as good. The grade is very fine and the work of laying the stones is being pushed forward rapidly. It is feared that Pennsylvania street will be finished this fall on account of the scarcity of bowlders, but the street will be graded up, and that will be a decided improvement on its present condition.

The following sick and wounded Indians were received in Louisville from Perryville, on Saturday, and forwarded to the New Albany Hospital:

William Ambrose, co. L, 43d Indiana, wounded in abdomen; Robert B. Richardson, co. E, 43d, on the head.

The following appointments have been announced in addition to those published on Tuesday:

Major Jessie L. Holman, of the 18th, promoted to Lieutenant Colonel; vice Thomas promoted; Robert Robson, Surgeon, and W. G. Ruston, Assistant Surgeon of the 91st; Samuel A. Ralston, 1st Assistant, and James D. Atwood, 2d Assistant Surgeon of 67th; D. W. Flora, 2d Assistant Surgeon of 90th; W. P. Sherrard, Surgeon of 21st; J. D. Maxwell, Surgeon, and J. G. Hendricks, Assistant Surgeon of 30d; D. H. Jessup, Assistant Surgeon of 66th; Jos. C. Buriet, Surgeon of 25th; Major James Hamilton, Lieutenant Colonel of 42d, vice Denby promoted.

THIRD OF THE ELEPHANT.—A friend writing from Cincinnati says:

Radicalism itself rejoices at the result of the recent elections. Of course they would not say so outright. They did not want to back down from the untenable position they had assumed, at the same time they saw they were in the wrong, and are glad enough to give up control of affairs, and get rid, as they erroneously think they will, of the responsibility of having ruined the country. Conservatism coming in now will give these crazy an opportunity, you know, to cry out against those who have ousted them if it should turn out that they and Southern traitors have indeed ruined the country beyond redemption.

General Military Order No. 4.

STATE OF INDIANA, ADJ. GEN.'S OFFICE.

Indianapolis, October 23, 1862.

The exigency no longer requiring that the military appointments of Teachers for the next term, under "General Military Order," issued September 5, 1862, should be continued, said orders are hereby suspended and the companies so organized may be disbanded at the option of the members.

Companies desiring to continue their organization may do so by complying with the laws of the State providing for the organization of the Indiana Legion.

The having arms will immediately return them to the officers from whom they were received, or to the Auditor of the county.

Officers who have distributed arms to all such companies will attend to having them returned immediately.

By order of the Governor.

LAM. NOBLE, Adjutant Gen'l Ind.

A Living Death.

It sometimes happens on certain coasts of Britain or Scotland, that a man, traveler or fisherman, walking on the beach, low down for him, suddenly notices that for several minutes he has been walking with some difficulty. The strand beneath his feet is like pitch, his soles stick to it; it is said no longer; it is glue. The traveler is petrified, and at every step he sinks as soon as he lifts his foot, the print which he leaves fills with water. The eye, however, has noticed no change; the immense strand is smooth and tranquil, all the sand has the same appearance, he is not in the least in danger, the solid from the surface which is no longer so; the joyous little cloud of sand flies continue to leap tumultuously over the wayfarer's feet. The man pursues his way, goes forward, inches toward the land, and every step he takes he sinks deeper. He is not anxious about what? Only, he feels somehow as if the weight of his feet increased with every step which he takes. Suddenly he sinks in. He sinks in two or three inches. He is not in the least in danger, the solid from the surface which is no longer so; the joyous little cloud of sand flies continue to leap tumultuously over the wayfarer's feet. The man pursues his way, goes forward, inches toward the land, and every step he takes he sinks deeper. He is not anxious about what?
